

TEAM BUILDER WELCOME

A Welcome from the UYB Team

Welcome to this Virtual Gift of 'Done for You' Virtual Team Builders!

Our Teams are the lifeblood of a thriving business and helping them connect with one another creates stronger, more resilient teams who collaborate and seek input to obtain different perspectives and values.

As a global virtual company, Upleveling Your Business strives to create a diverse, inclusive, and equitable space for our team and clients' development. We are also dedicated to helping our clients build stronger teams!

We are gifting you three Team Builders to promote team development and build resilient teams who learn to work together. (For instance, Team Builder #1 is about enhancing listening abilities, foster creativity, and strengthen team collaboration)

Each Team Builder comes with the following:

- Admin Instructions and Prep
- Instructions to the Team
- Admin - Anchoring in the Lessons
- Follow-up Flyer to Post the Day After to Anchor in the Lessons

We can't wait for you to get these scheduled. Just pick the order you want and schedule one a month! We love to see pictures and feedback from you and your team so be sure to tag us on social media (@UplevelingYourBusiness #UYBTeamBuilders). Please also feel free to reach out by email and tell us what you loved, and what suggestions or alternatives you came up with! Finally, we'd love to know if you would be interested in getting a new packet each quarter. Overall, have fun and lean into developing resilient and successful teams!

Cheers to your Success!

TEAM BUILDER: CAN YOU HEAR ME NOW?

Admin Overview & Pre-Event Instructions

Overview:

This Team Builder objectives are to improve communication skills, enhance listening abilities, foster creativity, and strengthen team collaboration.

Preparations:

- Paper
- Pens or pencils
- Game Host

Notes & Other Ideas:

TEAM BUILDER: CAN YOU HEAR ME NOW?

Team Instructions

1. Divide your group into subgroups of 5-7 people each.
2. Assign each subgroup to a breakout room with instructions on how to play and access to a random word generator.
3. Players take turns being the Describer and the Drawers.
4. The Describer selects a random word and describes it using geometric terms such as directions, degrees, lengths, and shapes. For example, "draw a small circle in the center of your page, then add a triangle on top of the circle."
5. The Drawers listen to the instructions and draw what they hear as accurately as possible.
6. At any time, a Drawer can guess what the picture represents. If they guess correctly, they earn one point.
7. After a correct guess, all players show their drawings on screen.
8. The next Describer can be the Drawer who guessed correctly or another group member.
9. Continue the game, keeping track of points, and award prizes at the end

Admin - Anchoring In the Lessons

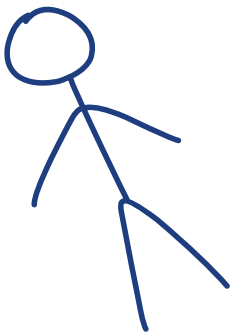

Questions to Ask the Team After the Breakouts and Shares:

- How did it feel to both give and receive directions during the activity?
- What challenges did you encounter when describing or interpreting the drawings?
- How did your choice of words affect the clarity of your instructions?
- What did you learn about your own communication style and how it impacts others?
- How did the activity help you identify your teammates' strengths and areas for growth?
- What techniques did you find most effective for improving communication within your group?
- How can the lessons learned from this activity be applied to our daily work and team interactions?
- What changes can we make to our communication strategies based on this experience?

Additional Sharing: What follow-up activities or practices would you suggest to reinforce the lessons learned today?

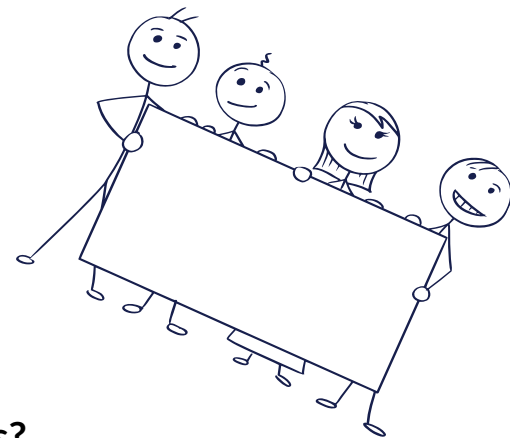

TEAM BUILDER: CAN YOU HEAR ME NOW?

This Month's Team Builder was all about Effective Communication, Active Listening, Understanding Team Dynamics and Roles!

Takeaway #1: Everyone learns the importance of clear and precise communication. Describing an image using only geometric terms and listening carefully to instructions highlights how vital it is to convey and interpret messages accurately to avoid misunderstandings.

Takeaway #2: Team members must pay close attention to the Describer's instructions to accurately draw the image, reinforcing the value of listening skills in collaborative efforts.
